REPORT

—OF THE—

Comptroller of the Treasury

—OF THE—

STATE OF MARYLAND.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,

ANNAPOLIS, January 12, 1898.

To the Honorable, The General Assembly of Maryland :

It becomes my duty and pleasure as well, in pursuance of the Constitution and Statutes of the State, to present to you the financial operations of the Treasury Department during the fiscal year ended September 30th, 1897.

RECEIPTS.

The total receipts into the Treasury during this period are clearly set forth in Statement "A," amounting in the aggregate to $2,772,055.40. The balance in the Treasury proper September 30th, 1896, of $916,042.76, must be added to this amount, together with the cash to the credit of the Funds account of $2,000, making the total receipts for the year, including such balance, $3,690,098.16, as against $3,863,443.83 for the year previous.

By reference to said statement, it will be seen that the ordinary receipts for the year, exclusive of balance, are $2,772,055.40, as against $2,544,091.64 for the year previous, after deducting from said year the $612,784 obtained from the sale of the Penitentiary and Insane Asylum Loan Bonds as authorized by Chapters 164 and 166 of 1896, or a gain of $227,963.76, and that, too, with a loss of $27,500 by the passing of a dividend on $550,000 of the stock of the Washington Branch of the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Co.

Do not let this increase mislead you, for a careful examination by comparison of the revenues of this year with that of the year previous, will clearly demonstrate whence it comes. It is almost wholly obtained from sources, the moneys from which are dedicated to specific purposes, viz.: Public School Tax, School Book Tax and the tax for the maintenance of the Sinking Funds, and therefore not applicable to the ordinary expenditures of the State Government, such as the payment of salaries, appropriations to State and charitable institutions, etc.

There was received during the fiscal year 1896, from Collectors of State Taxes the sum of $844,620.35, and during this fiscal year the sum of $1,019,631.76, or an increase of $175,011.41, and a further increase from the Tax on Baltimore City Stock of $3,447.72, aggregating $178,459.13. This increase is largely attributable to an augmented taxable basis under the new assessment, as well as to diligence on the part of the Treasury officials in collecting the State's revenue. While this increase from collectors and the City Register of Baltimore City as above shown is manifest, yet the Tax on Incorporated Institutions or stock companies, produces $746.00 less in 1897 than in 1896, or the sum of $81,332.50.

Suffice it to say, however, such increase in revenue, while beneficial to the public schools, Free Books (although not ample) and the Sinking Funds, is helpful to the general treasury only by so much as this increase is in excess of the amounts dedicated to these specific purposes, and while the figures show such increase, yet only a very small moiety thereof is available for the ordinary expenses of the State.

DISBURSEMENTS.

The total disbursements during the fiscal year, as shown in detail by Statement "B," aggregate $2,980,959.58, being $35,558.51 in excess of the previous year, leaving a balance on hand September 30th, 1897, of $707,138.58, as against a balance of $916,042.76 for the fiscal year ended September 30th, 1896. But in this amount of $916,042.76, is included the sums due the Insane Asylum and the Penitentiary Loans, to wit: $412,019.20, since paid, and which accounts for the large disbursements this fiscal year, which sum, if deducted, would leave a balance of $504,023.56, as the ordinary balance in the Treasury proper of September 30th, 1896. Hence the balance of September 30th, 1897, of $707,138.58, after such payment, is in excess of that for the year previous by $203,115.02.

Doubtless this balance of $707,138.58, to many of you, is a very comfortable one, and indeed it is, yet we should inquire of what it is composed and the demands thereon in order to arrive at an intelligent understanding of the true conditions of the State's finances.

The sum of $436,607.07 of this balance was actually to the credit of the Public School Tax on the 1st day of October 1897, as by reference to statement "L," will more fully appear, $227.625 thereof being apportioned and distributed as of that date, while nearly the whole of the remainder was dedicated to specific purposes and to meet the heavy demands upon the Treasury on the first day of October, or shortly thereafter, at which time all the appropriations for the support of the State government as well as to charitable and other institutions become by law available. Hence any appropriations that you in your wisdom may seem best to make, cannot be drawn from these funds, but must come from the ordinary receipts of the government, if sufficient, or by a special tax to be levied for such specific purpose.

ESTIMATES.

In statement "C," you will find the probable receipts into the Treasury during the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1898 to be $2,756,842.30. Since making up such statement, the indications are now apparent that this estimate is rather large, since the Treasury will not likely receive any dividends on the Washington Branch of the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Co., amounting to $55,000 as therein mentioned. By deducting this amount, would leave as the probable receipts $2,701,842.30, which if realized and added to the balance on hand September 30th 1897 of $707,138.58 would make the gross receipts $3,408,980.88.

By deducting the estimated disbursements for the same period, as shown in statement "D," aggregating $2,776,621.86, would leave as a balance on hand September 30th 1898, of $632,359.02, a sum amply sufficient to meet all the needs of the government. What that balance will be, depends very largely upon the economy you exercise.

FREE SCHOOL FUND.

Statement "E" will give you in detail the condition of the Free School Fund at the close of the fiscal year. The receipts were $66,259.14, which added to the balance on hand September 30th 1896 of $2,000.00 made $68,259.14. This is a loss of $3,796.22 in comparison with that of last year, and is accounted for almost entirely by the loss of increment from the 6% preferred stock of the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Co., held by the State for this fund, amounting to $118,100. During the fiscal year 1896, the first dividend of $3,543.00 on this stock was received, while this year both dividends were passed. This, together with lower dividends on some of the bank stocks held for the use of this Fund, clearly shows the shrinkage. The sum disbursed to the several counties and city of Baltimore, amounted to $66,067.34, leaving a balance on hand of $2,191.80.

SINKING FUNDS.

In statement "E," you will also find the condition of the several sinking funds during the past fiscal year. The total receipts were $627,404.18, all of which was invested, as during the year previous, in Maryland 3.65s, the par value of which is $613,475.00.

	Par Value.	Cost.
General Sinking Fund.....	$110,000 00	$112,560 00
Exchange Loan of 1889.....	5,000 00	5,130 00
Defence Redemption Loan..	439,475 00	449,448 78
Exchange Loan of 1886.....	15,000 00	15,390 00
Penitentiary Loan	34,000 00	34,615 40
Insane Asylum Loan.....	10,000 00	10,260 00
Totals	$613,475 00	$627,404 18

There were sold during the year from stocks and bonds belonging to the Sinking Funds, $74,000 of Frederick City 4% Bonds and $161,000 of Baltimore City Stocks, aggregating the par value of $235,000, which deducted from the par value of stocks purchased, leaves $378,475, as the net par amount invested for the year.

This sum exceeds that of last year by $70,775.00, a most gratifying increase indeed. While the receipts from loan taxes, i. e., taxes to pay the interest on the public debt and to provide a sinking fund for the liquidation of the loans at maturity, during the fiscal year ended September 30th, 1897, exceeded those of the year previous by only $21,112.24, yet the Treasury officials, by reason of such increased collections and diminished ordinary disbursements, have been enabled to thus augment the Sinking Funds to this amount, so that every cent and more dedicated and collected for these Funds, after paying the interest on the public debt, has been invested as the law demands.

As the Legislature of 1896 created two new Loans, Chapters 164 and 166, known as the Penitentiary and Insane Asylum Loans, it became necessary in obedience to the Constitution to levy a tax and provide a sinking fund therefor, in order that those Loans might be retired within fifteen years or at maturity. Such funds have been opened, the accounts raised and the amounts invested in accordance therewith as clearly set forth above.

Let me respectfully call your attention to what has been accomplished during the past two fiscal years.

There have been received for the Sinking Funds, every dollar of which was invested in the State's own stock, the following amounts :

	Par.	Cost.
1896.....	$349,700 00	$359,321 25
1897.....	613,475 00	627,404 18
Totals	$963,175 00	$986,725 43

or within a fraction of one million dollars, and since the investments have all been in Maryland 3.65s it follows that nearly one-third of this $3,000,000 Defence Redemption Loan has been virtually extinguished. It is true this result has been accomplished by the sale of some of the securities already held by these Funds, but after deducting such sales of the par value of $277,000, there yet remains the sum of $686,175.00 as the net par value of securities purchased, or a virtual reduction of the State debt to this extent.

By a comparison of this amount with the two years previous, 1894-5, we find there was purchased for the Sinking Funds during that period the sum of $710,500.00 or in excess of that of 1896-7 by only $24,325.00. When it is remembered that the levies for 1894-5 embraced the rate of 7½c. on each $100 for Loans, while this rate was reduced in 1896-7 to 5½, the other 2c. going to Free Books, such figures become interesting. With this 2c., assisted from the ordinary receipts of the Treasury, $300,000.00 has been paid for the purchase of Free Books, which, had the division of the levy remained the same as in 1894-5, could and would have been invested for the Loans, which would have made $986,175.00. In other words, there has been invested in the Sinking Funds during my incumbency the sum of $686,175.00, as against $710,500.00 for the two years previous, and that too with a tax rate of 2c. less, and an additional drain upon the general Treasury for Free School Books as above stated.

SINKING FUNDS, STOCK ACCOUNT.

The stock account of the several Sinking Funds, the Common Free School Funds and those stocks held for the benefit of Schools in the sundry counties, are fully shown in Statement "F."

By reference to said statement and in comparison with that of last year, several changes are noted. The Sinking Fund for the Defence Redemption Loan now aggregates $3,494,245.05, as against $3,204,770.05 for the year previous, being in excess of the Loan by $494,245.05. Two years ago this Fund held of its own stock $339,886.00. At the close of this fiscal year, it holds $1,089,061, or an increase of $749,175.00. As this Loan matures January 1, 1899, the wisdom of the treasury officials in thus securing such a large amount of its own stock, becomes manifest, for the Loan is virtually extinguished to this extent. The following statement will show you the amounts now held by the several Sinking Funds :

General Sinking Fund.....	$ 484,789 56
Defence Redemption Loan.....	3,494,245 95
Exchange Loan of 1889	165,403 50
“ “ “ 1891	40,000 00
Penitentiary Loan... ..	34,000 00
Insane Asylum Loan.....	10,000 00
Total.....	$4,228,438 11

OYSTER FUND.

Statement “H” will show you the receipts and disbursements on account of this Fund.

The receipts as clearly shown in detail are $66,783.90, which added to the balance on hand September 30th, 1896, makes the total receipts for the fiscal year of 1897, $67,270.73.

This amount is largely in excess of the ordinary receipts for the year previous. After deducting the loan of $15,000.00 from the Treasury as prescribed by Chapter 346 of 1896, the ordinary receipts for the fiscal year 1896, including even the balance brought down of $3,583 67, are shown to be $52,827.69, or an increase of $14,443.04 in comparison with that of the year 1896. This increase of revenue in 1897 is attributable almost solely to receipts from Dredging Licenses, the receipts in 1897 being $42,058.14, while in the year previous they were only $25,284.33.

The disbursements are shown to be $66,761.97, leaving a balance of $508.76. Among these disbursements is shown the item of $15,000 as per Chapter 346 of 1896. By the provisions of that statute, this loan from the Treasury was to be returned “from the first moneys received into the Treasury for the purposes of the Oyster Fund,” and it was so done, and instead of the Fund having $66,761.97 with which to meet its demands, a sum more than sufficient for every obligation, it had that amount less $15,000.00, or $51,761.97 only.

The hope was indulged, that the revenue under the new law of 1896, Chapter 418, would be large enough to wipe out this loan and maintain the navy without any further help. In this respect, the law has been disappointing, for while the revenue in 1897 was encouraging, yet every indication now points to a loss in revenue for the fiscal year commencing October 1st, 1897. Had not the year 1897 been chargeable with the $15,000.00, it would have been self sustaining. As it is, this balance of $508.76 is not a true one, inasmuch as bills and pay-rolls very much in excess of this amount, went over into the fiscal year 1898, and were paid from revenues then accruing.

I have carefully prepared the following statement of probable receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year 1898, and since one-fourth of that time has now expired, knowing to the cent what they are for this period, such statement will be found to be very nearly correct.

Receipts from Dredging Licenses	$35,500 00
" " all other sources.....	22,000 00	$57,500 00
Total disbursements.....		67,500 00
Probable deficiency.....		$10,000 00

Such being the true condition of the Oyster Fund, I would therefore respectfully recommend that your honorable Bodies assist this branch of the State service for the fiscal years 1898-9 to the extent of the probable deficiency above shown, not by a loan from the Treasury proper as was done by the Legislature of 1896, but by a direct appropriation of $10,000 for each of said years.

The oyster industry is too important to the welfare of a large class of the citizens of our State to be treated in other than a broad and liberal manner, and quoting from my former report, "the very existence of which depends upon an honest and efficient force that should receive such means as to render it effective." I therefore bespeak for it your fostering care and careful consideration.

ASSETS.

Little change has been made in the productive assets of the State, as shown in statement "I," aggregating this fiscal year $3,430,584.14 as against $3,605,249.99 for the fiscal year 1896. In this statement, you will observe, is included the item of $550,000, stock of the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, for the reason such stock paid during the year the first dividend thereon, to wit: $27,500, as is shown in statement "A" of this report. It is very problematical, however, if such stock can be retained under this head during the next fiscal year. The Baltimore City Stock herein mentioned is less by as much as was sold during the year and invested for the Sinking Funds.

The unproductive stocks amount to $8,129,626.99.

STATE DEBT.

The total State debt at the close of the fiscal year 1897, as shown in statement "J" and in the State Loans' Account, aggregates, $9,284,986.24. By deducting the productive assets of the State as well as stocks and bonds to the credit of the Sinking Funds at their par value of $6,335,908.11, would leave as the net debt of the State on September 30th 1897, $2,949,078.13, as against $3,338,553.13 for the year previous, or a net reduction of $389,475.00 for the year.

By reference to the statements above mentioned, it will be seen, that the Defence Redemption Loan of $3,000,000.00 will mature January 1st, 1899. Hence the proper inquiry,—Is its Sinking Fund full? By referring again to statement “F,” the reply to that inquiry is fully had, in showing securities aggregating $3,494,245.05, or in excess of the Loan as before mentioned, by $494,245.05, as follows:

Exchange Loan of 1886.....	$980,632 00
“ “ 1889.....	369,800 00
“ “ 1891.....	558,552 05	$1,908,984 05
Baltimore City Stocks.....	496,200 00
Defence Redemption Loan Stock.....	1,089,061 00
Total.....		$3,494,245 05

While this Fund is more than full, yet $1,908,984 05 thereof consists of State Exchange Loan Bonds and Stocks, securities of the very highest order, it is true, but not convertible at the maturity of the Loan and must be transferred to other Sinking Funds at that time. Hence the only securities in this fund available are the Baltimore City Stocks and its own, amounting to $1,585,261. But there is held in other Sinking Funds $319,200 of this Defence Redemption Loan Stock, making the total amount now held by the State $1,408.261, besides $5,000 of Baltimore City Stock held by the Exchange Loan of 1889 Sinking Fund, in addition to that already mentioned. Therefore the condition of the loan January 1st, 1899, would be as follows:

Defence Redemption Loan Stock now held.....	$1,408,261 00
“ “ “ “ to be purchased during year of 1898.....	350,000 00
Baltimore City Stock	501,200 00
Total	$2,259,461 00

leaving a balance of $740,539 00 to be either refunded or paid off by selling some of the State's securities.

If the Treasury officials were compelled to place in the market some of its securities, it might be at a very great loss; therefore I respectfully recommend that you pass an act authorizing the refunding at a rate not exceeding 3 per centum, whatever balance of this loan may be outstanding at maturity, thus putting it within the discretion of the Treasury officials to refund or not, as in their sound judgment may deem best.

The State Loans' Account was prepared as far as practicable, in accordance with Chapter 172 of 1896.

ASSESSMENT AND LEVY OF 1897.

Statement "K" shows the assessed value of property for State purposes under the new assessment, as prescribed by Chapter 120, of 1896, to be $607,965,272, or an increase of $67,503,525 over that of 1896, and an increase over that of 1877 of $129,497,244. The increased basis in 1897 produced a corresponding increase in the amount of levy, the same being $1,079,138.27, or an excess over the year previous by $119,818.74.

The following statement of assessed value of property for State purposes may be found interesting :

Years.	Basis.	Amt. of Levy.	Tax Rate.
1876.....	\$429,112,418	\$740,218.87	17 $\frac{1}{2}$ %
1877.....	478,468,038	825,357.26	17 $\frac{3}{4}$ %
1896.....	540,461,747	959,319.53	17 $\frac{1}{2}$ %
1897.....	607,965,272	1,079,138.27	17 $\frac{3}{4}$ %

Do not be unmindful of the fact, however, that this increase is beneficial only for the purposes designated in the State Levy, viz : Schools, Free Books and Loans, and does not effect the revenues for ordinary expenses in the least.

One of the provisions in the new assessment law is the levying of a tax of one-eighth of one per centum on the income of mortgages, three-fourths of such tax going to the counties in which the mortgages are to be recorded and the remaining fourth coming to the State. The receipts from this income have been disappointing, owing to the great difficulty experienced in obtaining even the basis of income, as well as tardiness in collecting the tax. As this is a new feature engrafted into our tax system, I bespeak for it a fair and impartial trial, believing its provisions just, and that after all the intricacies incidental to its collection shall be understood and obeyed, it will increase very materially the revenues of the State.

The provisions of this law increasing the franchise tax upon the gross receipts of all Railroad Companies whose roads are worked by steam as well as upon other Companies, as by reference to Section 146 of said Act, will more fully appear, have very largely increased the revenue from this source. During the fiscal year 1896, there was received $118,291.81, and for the same period in 1897, the sum of $171,140.05, or a gain of $52,848.24.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TAX.

In statement "L" you will find the receipts and disbursements on account of the Public School Tax during the fiscal year 1897. The receipts are shown to be $678,447.44, the disbursements $496,224.69, while the receipts during the previous fiscal year aggregated $573,768.91, and the disbursements $591,753.00.

The disbursements during the year, $496,224.69, are small in comparison with that of the year previous, by virtue of diminished receipts during the school year. Baltimore City heretofore, has always paid, usually in May, a large sum into the Treasury before the close of the school year, June 15th, which sum, together with all other sums standing to the credit of this tax, has been distributed therefore to the cent, as of that date. During this fiscal year, by reason of the tardiness of the new assessment, such payment was not made until after the fourth. and final school apportionment on June 15th, and hence, was lost to that year. But what the schools lost for this year will be gained in the next. By further reference to said statement, you will therefore find, there was a balance applicable to the school year commencing October 1st, 1897, the sum of $436,607.07, as against $254,384.32 for the same period last fiscal year.

With such a large balance on hand, I considered it my duty, both in obedience to Art. 19, Section 35, of the Code of Public General Laws—"to equalize as far as may be possible"—and in justice to the schools of the State to increase the usual October apportionment by $100,000. This was accordingly done, as is clearly shown in said statement, including $2,625.00 to the State Normal School, more than making whole the shortage of the June previous, leaving on hand to equalize future distributions the sum of $208,982.07, as against

$126,759.32	in	1896,
144,743.41	"	1895,
137,201.71	"	1894,
120,967.16	"	1893,
128,644.36	"	1892.

This gratifying exhibit was possible by reason of an increased assessment, as before mentioned, and with prompt collections.

FREE SCHOOL BOOKS.

Statement "M" will show you the levy, receipts and disbursements on account of Free School Books. The receipts for the year aggregate $115,552.14, the disbursements, of course, $150,000, being the amount appropriated by law, regardless of what sum may be received from the levy of two cents., set apart for this purpose.

The failure of the Legislature to provide a sufficient tax rate to meet this appropriation, has produced in two years the heavy deficit of $120,818.08. This amount has been paid from the ordinary receipts of the Treasury, and notwithstanding the largely increased taxable basis of this fiscal year, this tax of two cents on each $100 will never reduce or wipe out this deficiency, but must produce an augmented shrinkage each year. While the Treasury has been able to meet, without serious embarrassment, this large amount out of its ordinary receipts, the limit has been absolutely reached.

LICENSES, ETC.

In Table No. 1 is shown the revenue in detail from Clerks of Courts and other officers, aggregating $937,572.96, or an increase over the year previous of $29,677.01. After deducting from this amount the sums due Baltimore City from the sale of High Liquor Licenses, being three-fourths thereof, together with the sums due the Oyster Fund, aggregating $477,023.84, would leave the sum of $460,549.12 applicable for the ordinary expenses of the State government, as the Legislature, Judiciary, Civil Officers, &c.

This revenue is one of the safest and most reliable the State has, coming into the Treasury quarterly, or when mostly needed. Suppose the revenue paid by Baltimore City were diverted from the State to the city treasury? Would not the same reasons be applicable for such diversions to the counties, nay, would not common justice demand it? If so, it means a loss to the State Treasury of \$460,000.00 per annum, with no sources from which to recoup the same, save by a direct levy, necessitating an additional tax of at least $7\frac{1}{2}$ cents on each \$100, or a gross tax of $25\frac{1}{2}$ cents, which even at that rate for the first year or two would not supply the requisite amount. Therefore, if you deem it expedient and wise to divert such revenue, you must levy an additional tax, as above indicated.

The receipts from Registers of Wills will be found in Table No. 2, amounting to $120,184.33, or $19,583.37 less than for the year previous.

Table No. 3, will show you the amounts paid into the Treasury from Collectors of State Taxes, aggregating $1,019,631.76, or a sum greater by $175,011.41 than the amount received during the fiscal year 1896, the reasons therefor being previously explained in these remarks, as well as the large increase from Tax on Gross Receipts of Corporations, as shown in Table No. 5, aggregating this year $171,140.05, or in excess of that of the year previous by $52,848.24.

In Table No. 6 will be found the receipts from tax on the shares of Capital Stock of the various Incorporated Institutions in the State during the fiscal year, amounting to $81,332.50, or a loss over that of the previous year by $746.00.

STATE TOBACCO INSPECTIONS.

In Table No. 7 is shown in detail the receipts and disbursements of the State Tobacco Warehouses during the fiscal year 1897. The gross receipts are $78,541.66, and the disbursements $72,283.78, leaving the balance of $6,257.88, as the net earnings during the year, or a loss of $942.41 in comparison with that of the year 1896.

MISCELLANEOUS.

In Table No. 8, is shown receipts from various sources, aggregating $7,075.69, the receipts from Tax on Protests in Table No. 9, aggregate $4,125.00, while Table No. 10, shows the receipts from Sheriffs to be $1,580.89, being a small gain over the preceding year.

Table No. 11, shows the receipts into the Treasury from Licenses and tax upon premiums paid by Insurance Companies and from Fire Marshal, to be $139,069.82, or a gain over the fiscal year 1896, of $8,204.71.

In Table No. 12, the receipts from Franchise Tax on the deposits of Savings Banks and Institutions, aggregate $29,059.93, or a loss of $476.65.

The balances due the State, exclusive of interest, are fully set forth in Tables Nos. 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17. While these aggregates are large, nearly the whole amount thereof is collectible.

The disbursements from the Contingent Funds of the Treasury Department are fully exhibited in Tables 18 and 19, the condition of the Tobacco Fund in Table 20 and the receipts and disbursements on account of the Commission of Fisheries, in Table 21.

The Fee and Emolument reports of officers as required by Article 15, Section 1, of the Constitution will be found in the Statistical Report, Part II, of the Appendix.

As required by Chapter 329 of the Acts of 1894, there is added the reports of Savings Banks, giving detailed statements of accounts standing in said Banks, upon which no deposits have been made or money withdrawn for a period of twenty years prior to Sept. 1st, 1897. As this report accomplishes nothing I would suggest the requirement be abolished.

Article 56, Section 1, of the Code of Public General Laws, provides that "All Licenses for selling goods and chattels shall be granted by the Clerks of the Circuit Courts for the counties * * and all licenses granted or issued by said Clerks shall expire the first day of May next thereafter* * and if granted for part of a year a ratable sum shall be charged therefor." Article 17, Section 62, further provides, that "Every Clerk shall lay before every grand jury attending his court a list of all licenses granted by him and not by him before returned to any grand jury."

In an examination made during the fiscal year by a deputy from my office, as well as from Reports on file, it was found that some of the Clerks of Courts and especially in those Counties where the grand juries met just prior to the beginning of the license year, to wit: May 1st, great indulgence had been given by said Clerks to traders, in allowing them to take out a May or twelve months' license six months thereafter. or prior to the meeting of the next grand jury and in time to escape the second provision above recited. Such action is in plain violation of the statute, derogatory to the rights of honest traders and in prejudice to the interests of the State. I would therefore respectfully recommend, that you pass a law whereby such action may no longer be possible.

In the examination above referred to, many of the offices examined were found to be models of accuracy and neatness, with well devised systems of keeping public accounts, but this could not be said of all. Such examination has clearly demonstrated to me, that the interest of the State, as well as the taxpayers themselves, demands the appointment of an Examining Auditor, whose duty it shall be, under ample authority given, to examine the books and accounts of all State officers reporting to this Department, with power to revise or establish, if needed, subject to approval by the Comptroller, such systems as his skill and judgement may suggest, said Auditor to report to and be under the control and direction of this office, and whose fitness and capacity alone shall be the recommendation for appointment.

Allow me to urge upon you the utmost economy in public expenditures. Doubtless much pressure will be brought to bear upon you, as upon all preceding bodies, to make or increase appropriations to various institutions, and for various purposes. Need I remind you that you exercise with care the Constitutional prerogative thus given? Upon your action depends very largely whether the beneficial results attained shall be continued or not, therefore I respectfully urge you not to embarrass the Treasury, but rather to assist the same, in order that even better results may be had in augmenting the Sinking Funds, thereby reducing the State Debt and thus ultimately relieving the people of the burden of this tax.

There is one important suggestion I would make. It is very necessary that you establish a uniform system for the collection of taxes throughout the State. We find much more satisfactory results are obtainable in counties that have one person responsible for the collection of all taxes. It would be well to establish this system in all the counties in the State, giving that one person authority to employ whatever assistance the wealth and population of his county make necessary.

The statement of the State's finances is now before you, and I sincerely trust the exhibit thus made, while receiving your careful consideration, may also merit your hearty commendation. Whatever good may be found therein, must be equally shared by my associate, the Treasurer, whose devotion to the interest and welfare of the State is always present, and I cannot speak too highly of the very efficient services of all the Clerks in the Comptroller's Office. These gentlemen merit much of the success which has followed the administration of this office for the past two years.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT P. GRAHAM,

COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY.
